Numbers 13-14

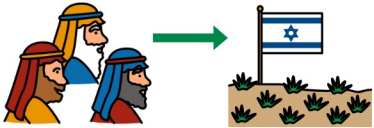

Israelites had arrived at the edge of Canaan -

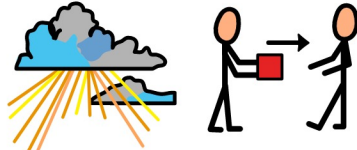

the land that God had promised to Abraham, Isaac and Jacob.

God told Moses,

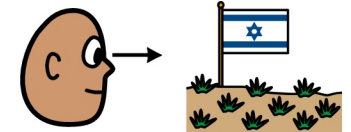

"Send some men to check out the land of Canaan.

I am giving it to the Israelites..."

Twelve men, one from each of the tribes were sent as spies to check out the land of Canaan.

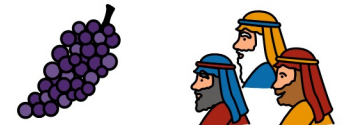

Moses said, "I want you to see what Canaan is like.

Are there a lot of people or just a few? Are they strong or weak?

Do their towns have tall walls?..."

The men came back with grapes and reported all that they saw.

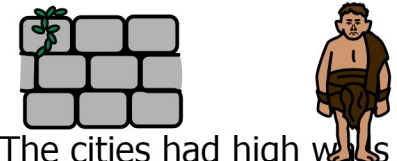

They said the land

had plenty of milk and honey,

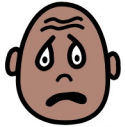

but the people who lived there were powerful.

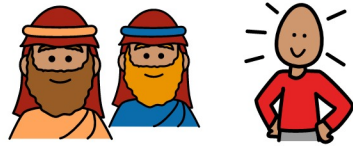

The cities had high walls and the people were like giants.

Even though the spies had seen good things, they were afraid.

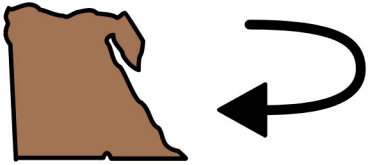

Only Joshua and Caleb were brave enough to speak up and wanted to take the land.

The Israelites were so afraid they begged to go back to Egypt.

Joshua and Caleb said,

"If the Lord is pleased with us, he'll lead us there. He'll give it to us, but we have to obey him. The Lord is with us..."

Instead of listening to Joshua and Caleb,

the Israelites talked about killing them.

The glory of God appeared and spoke to Moses,

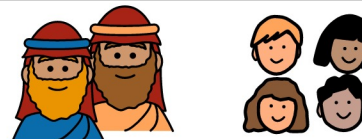

"How long will they refuse to believe in me?..."

Moses asked God to have mercy on the Israelites and forgive them.

God forgave the Israelites, but there were big consequences.

Only Caleb and Joshua led the children into Canaan at the end of the 40 years.

They faced their fears and God was with them.
