Hebrews 11:1 (NIrV)	Faith	is being sure	of what we hope for.	It is being sure
of what we	do not	see.

Acts 10

Peter and the other believers continued to spread the news about Jesus through God's spirit.

Peter stayed in Joppa with Simon.

So far, the believers only shared about Jesus to Jewish people.
Going into the home of a non Jewish person was against a rule that made the religious leaders mad.

Cornelius was a Roman commander who lived in Caesarea. He gave to people in need and worshipped God.

One day, God sent an angel. The angel told Cornelius to go to Joppa and bring back a man named Peter.

Cornelius was afraid, but he did what the angel had said.
During this time, Peter was praying and God gave Peter a vision. Peter saw sheep with animals that Jewish law said were unclean.

God said, "Get up Peter, kill and eat."

Peter refused because of the Jewish law.

God repeated 2 more times. He told Peter not to call anything that God has made unclean.

God's spirit spoke to Peter and said, "Three men are looking for you.
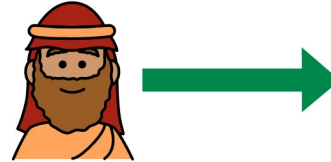

Don't let anything keep you from going with them. I have sent them."

Peter began to understand what God was telling him - that the message of Jesus was for everyone.

The next day, the men set out for Caesarea.

When Peter arrived, Cornelius fell down at his feet as if to worship him.

But Peter said, "I'm only a man myself"

and entered his house.

God had brought together both

Jewish and non- Jewish people in one home.

Peter spoke to non-Jewish people.

God's spirit came on all who were listening.
